Brexit Upheaval Brings Opportunity For African Educators

Mauritius based Rushmore Business School sets its sight on expansion into East Africa with its offer of quality British degree programmes delivered on the African continent

African Press Organization
Jul 17, 2019

The influential magazine Foreign Policy published an article at the end of 2018 entitled The Brexit Fueled Death of the British University (<https://bit.ly/2Ghc43j>). A grim outlook for the British education sector at the start of the year has only got worse as the nation prepares for a No Deal Brexit and a long period of uncertainty around UK trade and immigration policies.

A joint letter sent by the heads of 150 UK universities to British Members of Parliament called a No Deal Brexit one of the biggest threats ever to British universities. The letter stated vital research links will be compromised, from new cancer treatments to technologies combating climate change. The valuable exchange of students, staff and knowledge would be seriously damaged.

Dow Jones Factiva

Dow Jones Factiva is the world's leading news and business information research tool.

The screenshot shows the Dow Jones Factiva search interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with tabs for Home, Search, Alerts, Newsletters, Analytics, News Pages, and Companies/Markets. Below this is a search bar containing the query "Brexit upheaval brings opportunity for African educators". To the right of the search bar are "Options" and "Search" buttons. Below the search bar, there are filters for "Source: APO" and "Date Range: In the last 3 months", along with a checkbox for "Include additional Blogs and Boards". A "Back to Headlines" button is on the left, and a "Create an Alert" button is on the right.

The main content area displays the search results for the article "Brexit upheaval brings opportunity for African educators ; Mauritius based Rushmore Business School sets its sight on expansion into East Africa with its offer of quality British degree programmes delivered on the African continent". The article is attributed to the African Press Organization, dated 17 July 2019, 10:30, 881 words, English. It includes social sharing icons and a brief summary: "The influential magazine Foreign Policy published an article at the end of 2018 entitled The Brexit Fueled Death of the British University (https://bit.ly/2Ghc4Jj). A grim outlook for the British education sector at the start of the year has only got worse as the nation prepares for a 'No Deal Brexit' and a long period of uncertainty around UK trade and immigration policies."

On the right side, there are sections for "Related Articles" and "Related Dow Jones Intelligent Identifiers". Under "Publications", there are three entries: "Brexit upheaval brings opportunity for African educators" from Ventures Africa (17 July 2019), "Brexit upheaval brings opportunity for African educators" from M2 Presswire (17 July 2019), and "Boris Johnson won't be able to deliver Brexit without me..." from The Australian (22 July 2019) by Ticky Fullerton. Another entry is "Julio Jones leads Coastal Alabama's Mount Rushmore of..." from Press-Register (21 July 2019) by Ben Thomas.

Brexit upheaval brings opportunity for African educators

Mauritius based Rushmore Business School sets its sight on expansion into East Africa with its offer of quality British degree programmes delivered on the African continent

The influential magazine Foreign Policy published an article at the end of 2018 entitled The Brexit Fueled Death of the British University (<https://bit.ly/2Ghc4Jj>). A grim outlook for the British education sector at the start of the year has only got worse as the nation prepares for a « No Deal Brexit » and a long period of uncertainty around UK trade and immigration policies.
